
~ Officers in Crews cost Chicago 45% to 1,000% more in payouts for misconduct than their peers on a per officer basis.

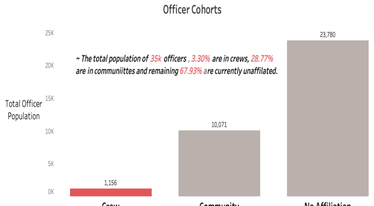
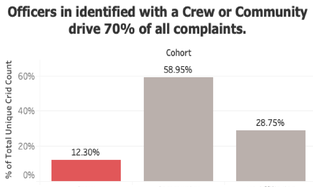
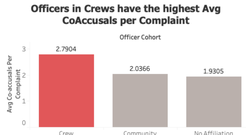
What is the cost of police misconduct?

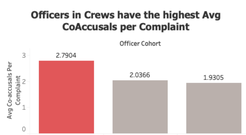
According to one measure, the combined sum of legal fees and settlements, or "payouts," associated with police misconduct has cost Chicago at least $320 million. The largest Cohort, Community, accounts for the most payouts with $254 million while the smallest Cohort, Crews, accounts for the least with $9 million.

However, on a per officer basis, the average officer in a Crew accounts for $37 thousand in payouts versus $25 thousand per officer in a Community.









$372 Million in Police Misconduct!

Can these resources be better spent within our communities?

gettyimages 25 YEARS
Scott Olson
508446574